A/C Communication – Enforcement confidential

Thanks again Mark for reviewing this document very quickly. I really appreciate it. I'm hopeful we can get it to DEQ tomorrow morning as well.

Attorney Client / Ex. 5; Law Enforcement / Ex. 7(a)

I'm not sure if you'll be able to tell which comments were mine vs. yours. Primarily, I left a series of comments rather than editing the text, so my thoughts are on the side of the page labeled as comments.

Let me know if you have any questions or concerns. I'll be sure to touch base with you prior to sending these to DEQ.

Thanks again – It's been a productive couple of days!

Rob

Rob, I didn't have anything big on the draft AOC. I should be able to get to the attachments this afternoon. It would be great to get everything back to the state early tomorrow morning. –Mark

Thank you Mark. I really appreciate it! I'll look through your comments and see if I have any questions. I'll also add my comments into this document and get them to you today. I don't think I have anything controversial.

Thanks,
Rob

Rob,
Good news. I finished my initial review of the draft AOC (pages 1-42). Please find attached my redlined version. I still need to review the attachments. I am sending you the first 42 pages to expedite consolidation of our comments.
Thanks,
Mark

Hey Mark and Amelia –

Given the transition, I want to make sure that one of you is reviewing this model AOC that DEQ is going to send Glencore. I told DEQ we'd respond with comments by Tuesday to allow DEQ time to discuss and send it to Glencore by the end of the month.

I know this is short notice, but if we have any major concerns with the draft AOC, we need to let them know.

Thanks,
Rob

FYI –I'm adding Scott to this list.

Here is the draft AOC sent by MDEQ. We should organize any comments we have and get them to DEQ by early next week. I'll be out of the office tomorrow but in next week to organize comments if folks have any.

Thanks,
Rob

Hi –

Thanks for the ongoing communication and parallel approach we are taking on CFAC. As soon as I see a copy of the EPA strategy, I will add in the DEQ specific elements that provide the triggers and general approach.

The first step in the State process is to present them with the offer of entering into the attached Administrative Order on Consent (AOC). The plan is to send them the AOC first part of next week and provide them 45-days to make a decision. The questions internally has been raised if we should do a press release on the offer of an AOC. I would like your thoughts on this as well.

Please provide any comments or questions on the attached document, as soon as possible.

Thanks –
Jenny
